Dear B.

Many thanks for your letter just now received.

I'm sorry to hear that you did not enjoy yourself at the carnival which you went to the other evening, though really am not surprised in one way as you seem get bored at anything which takes place in Hudd. don't you? It's so pretty nice here at times when the guns are busy firing away, they shake the houses & then had to make the beds & the table - I've no more to say.

Born May 7, 1840. Died November 6, 1893.

Peter Iljitch Tschai-kowski

"THE GREAT RUSSIAN SYMPHONIST."
Born at Wotkinsk. He originally intended to become a lawyer, but eventually studied composition at the St. Petersburg Conservatory, under Rubinstein. In 1866 he became an instructor of harmony at the newly founded Moscow Conservatory, a post which he retained until 1877. Through the generosity of a lady admirer, whom he knew only by correspondence for some years, he was provided with an income of about $2,500 a year, which enabled him to devote himself entirely to composition. His life was passed partly in St. Petersburg, partly in Italy, and partly in Switzerland. In 1891 he came to New York for the dedication of the Carnegie Music Hall. His music is extremely characteristic of the Russian temperament, though modified with Teutonic ideas. It possesses much fiery energy and is highly colored in its harmonic basis and strange rhythms. He is at his best in compositions for the orchestra. There is a strong pessimistic note in almost all his music. He was a man of melancholy disposition.

His best-known works in large form are the Piano Concerto in B flat minor and his Symphony Pathétique.

 I just can't let the day go by without telling you how I have been thinking about you though I have not time to write a letter tonight. Will surely do so in a day or so for I want to tell you about my summer trip. At present I am serving every minute I am out of school for I leave about the 20th for Penn. as I wrote you. In fact I have not much to tell about the place, the people or my work until I get there. This is your very busy week I believe. If you should love to be with you both for the good time & to be of some little service. Hope you have a week.

Spokane, Washington.

Gentlemen:

In reply to your letter of July 15th, we wish to say that we were very much pleased with the car of poles shipped in last December. They have proven very satisfactory in every respect. Any time we are in the market for poles, will be glad to ask you for quotations.

Yours truly,

O.T.W.
MIDLAND WATER, LIGHT & ICE CO.,
By Otto Tritts.

When you buy big-butted, solid, straight, large-taper Bovill Poles and they prove very satisfactory in every respect, you, too, will be glad to ask us for quotations when you are in the market.

But how about the first order?

Of course, if we are now furnishing you with Bovill Poles, we are mighty glad and we know that you, too, are pleased.

If we are not, we believe you will find it good business to get prices before you buy.

May we quote you now?

"QUEEN LOUISA"

Original painting by Josef Granz, the celebrated German artist, hangs in the Berlin gallery.

Granz is noted as a portrait painter and one of the most noted of the German school of the Vienna Academy, and was in the command of the Hermitage of 1781, underwent great perils, but escaped by the aid of Kosciuszko. "Went by invitation to Duke of Coburg in Saxony, and thence to Vienna in 1799. He became a professor at the Vienna Academy in 1815. He was in some degree a portrait painter, and painted several distinguished and royal personages, and Queen Louisa is counted one of his best. He died in Vienna in 1817; died in Liverpool in 1854.

REMBRANDT HARMENSZ VAN RYN, born 15th July 1606 at Leyden, buried on 8th October 1669 at Amsterdam. Pupil of Jacob van Swanenburgh at Leyden and later of Pieter Lastmann at Amsterdam. He was exercising his art first at Leyden and from 1631 at Amsterdam. Rembrandt is Holland's most genial and powerful artist. His paintings are remarkable for their strong colours and their clear-obscure. He was very skilled also in the art of etching.
