Hundreds of used and some mint especially in the 20th century issues is present. Many better Queen Victoria issues are here as well as King Edward VII and King George V. We note Seahorses used, commemoratives, some back-of-the-book and more. A number of values are into the many hundreds of pounds each. Condition is mainly Fine to Very Fine. There are a few faults. SG £29,015 ($35,980) (Owner's). Estimate $2,000 - 3,000
- 220 ★★/★/○ Great Britain, 1840-1951, a useful collection balance of mint and used, neatly mounted in a Lighthouse hingeless album. A sampling has been imaged on the web. Shipping weight 4.8 lbs / 2.1 kilos. SG £10,402 ($12,900). Estimate $2,000 - 3,000

Essentially complete from 1939, with an ample representation of the earlier issues of the 20th century. The best item is probably the 1937 PEXIP souvenir sheet, LH in margins (catalog value $360), and there are many better sets and singles in the $50-$150 catalog value range. The quality is exceptional: a spot check shows nearly all are NH from 1951 on, with many NH earlier; there are only a very few early used. - 288 ★★/★ Greece, 1896-1994, a huge high quality mint stock. Perhaps "stock" is not even the best word, as it conjures up images of packed glassines with minimal value. Certainly not the case here! Even if you took just one of each unique stamp in this inventory it would easily surpass most Greek collections from this time period. Five glassine files loaded with #4 glassines with not only better material, but a large portion of it never hinged including the classics, And hundreds of blocks; as a matter of fact, the vast majority from 1954 on have at least one block on hand. Some of the higher value items in blocks of four include #151-152, 154(2), 158 (2), 173 (2), 258-259, 382, 490-497, 523 (2), 525-534, 549-555, 568-573, 574-581, 582-600, 604-617, 632-638 (2), 639-648 (2), C67-70, C74-80 (2). In addition to airmails, other extensive back-of-the-book in postal tax and occupation and annexation stamps. Some Scott unlisted items, like imperfs of the Flying Hermes series and a selection of EFOs. There are also overprint varieties and inverted surcharges, as well as more familiar material, like complete booklets and souvenir sheets. All in all, absolutely enormous catalog value. As with all glassine lots, should really be viewed in person, generally Fine to Very Fine. Shipping weight 15.8 lbs / 7.2 kilos.

Post. In November 1985, General Foods was acquired by Philip Morris Companies (now Altria Group, Inc.) for $5.6 billion, the largest non-oil acquisition to that time. In December 1988, Philip Morris acquired Kraft Foods Inc., and, in 1990, combined the two food companies as Kraft Foods. - The plate was found in March 1954 by Maj. Thomas Coulson, Director of Museum Research of the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia, who contacted the famous stamp dealer Philip Ward of Philadelphia, who wrote about the discovery in the October 22, 1954 edition of Mekeel's Weekly Stamp News (copy of the paper accompanies). Ward contacted August Dietz who was convinced that this plate is the one that left London on March 1, 1862 aboard the ship "Bermuda", which was captured by the Federal blockading ship "Mercedes" (see page 162 of Dietz's book or page 333 of the CSA handbook). Ward used the plate to produce reprints. The plate was sold to the National Postal Museum in April 2011.*

U.S. and Foreign

458 ★/○/☒ U.S. and Foreign, 1850's-1980's, a huge chaotic mish-mash of mint and used stamps, covers, FDC's, picture post cards and ephemera, the disorganized balance of a hoarder's estate, accumulated over decades.

6 large boxes hold mini-collections, in albums, on pages, or in stock books. Catalog values probably mount into many thousands, possibly tens of thousands. This includes some U.S. face value postage.

1 large box holds loose stamps in glassines. Completely unorganized but with occasional value, up to perhaps $100 per item.

2 large boxes hold covers (some with real postal history value), FDC's, and a huge number of picture post cards.
